

What We Offer

Project management for those looking to build a Green House home or looking to transform their traditional organization to improve staffing success, increase elder satisfaction, and build community

Access to implementation and sustainability resources, GH education, and networking opportunities with organizations across the country

Expert advice from accessible coaches with first-hand knowledge of operating Green House homes and transforming traditional organizations

A tailored project plan and timeline to help organizations implement change in the way that works best for their culture and needs

PROJECT COACHING

Helping providers harness the values of real home, meaningful life, and empowered staff for practical impact and enduring change

“

From the very beginning, they were with us every step of the way.

”

Barry Berman
CEO of Chelsea Jewish Foundation

Green House project coaching delivers a full support system to providers seeking to achieve better care and financial success through physical and cultural transformation. Our project coaches, backed by years of experience navigating the regulatory and operational landscape in states across the country, ensure success from design to groundbreaking to opening and beyond. For more information, click here to watch a video about project coaching.